

Fairway 1

The first hole at continental country club is a golfer friendly par five, giving a player an early opportunity for a birdie. Longer hitters will be able to get home in two with a mid to long iron, giving them a chance for an eagle. Players must be careful to not cut off much of the trees to the right on their t-shot, or their second shot will be blocked by a large oak tree. With a back pin placement players should avoid going over the green, which will leave a very difficult up and down. Two bunkers protect a front pin placement, but leave a relatively simple bunker shot.

I always liked to start down the left with a little fade. To far right and you are blocked by trees.

I love watching the young pros play this hole in The Wildwood Open. They know how to play it. Hit a faded 300 yard drive, then a sweet easy 170 yard 8 iron. Take 2 putts for simple birdie or knock their eagle putt in the hole. Easy Peasy, for them 🤔

I go right short cut

Drive to the center to the right turn! (at least that is where I aim but the ball never cooperates- it must be the club!)
